The Department of History along with Political Science arranged a Guest Lecture on 12.07.2024 at 3 P.M in the seminar Hall. DrVadrevu Sundarao, Retd. Commerce Lecturer in GDC, Tanuku invited as speaker and Sri V. Rama Krishna, Social service organizer of Gandhian Philosophy as guest of honour. DrVadrevu Sundarao addressed the students and spoke about the Role of women in the Indian Freedom Movement especially about the life history of Smt. Duvvuri Subbamma as a women freedom fighter. He also praised the services of Duvvuri Subbamma rendered in the freedom movement.

Duvvuri Subbamma (15 November 1880 – 31 May 1964) was an Indian independence activist who played an important role in the Indian independence movement. She was one of the founders of the women's congress committee. Subbamma was born in 1880 in Draksharamam, East Godavari district, Andhra Pradesh. A child bride, she was married at the age of ten. She was widowed at a very young age. After her husband's death, she took up activism and joined the Quit India Movement against the British Raj. She took part in the civil disobedience movement and strongly advocated total freedom from British rule in India.

In 1922, she organized the women's congress committee. In 1923, she organized a meeting in Kakinada, Andhra Pradesh, where hundreds of women volunteers attended the Kakinada Congress Mahasabha. Subbamma organized Andhra Mahila Sabhas that trained and educated women in the national freedom movement and was instrumental in galvanizing support of the women in the Indian independence movement. She extensively travelled throughout Andhra Pradesh promoting women's empowerment. Together with other activists like Nadimpalli, Sundaramma helped set up the Goteti Manikyamba, Andhra Mahasabha, and T. Varakshamma organizations. Subbamma was arrested and incarcerated in the Rajahmundry prison for one year due to her activities on behalf of the civil disobedience movement. She also spent a year in the Rayavellore prison for taking part in the Salt March. She aggressively spoke out and worked for the abolition of untouchability in India. She is memorialized with a bust in the Freedom Park in Rajahmundry.

Sri V. Rama Krishna, Social service organizer of Gandhian Philosophy spoke about the services of Mahatma Gandhi and his principles to the Indian society.

BRIEF REPORT

Women Empowerment - A Cause for Increasing Divorce Rate In India

Woman empowerment means encouraging women for their rights. It helps women for overall development in various aspects like political, social, economic etc. For centuries women faced social inequalities in families in India. It was a scary duty of women to raise her children and they can do household work and to make their husbands happy. They work more than men but she could not be appreciated for her hard work. They faced domestic violence by her husband and became victims of that. The main reasons of inequalities and stereotypes against women are social corruption and ignorant behaviour by men, child marriage, and lack of Education. Nowadays women are serving as IAS, CEOs in various fields. It is important to strengthen women so that she can take their own decisions if we educate women we can have a positive impact on society.

Here, we are discussing the topic of Women's empowerment which means encouraging the power of women in our country, as everyone knows even in the 21st century gender inequality exists among most families. So, that will always neglect girls in all fields so I just want to say that the empowerment of women is not only the reason behind the divorce rate increasing in India. There is also more than one reason for women's empowerment: Women are not getting the opportunity to make any decisions in the family. Women are mistreated by their in-laws because of the dowry and many other reasons like having only girl children etc. Even after working more than men, they don't get appreciation from society. They do not have equal opportunities in every field because of society's thinking.

Some men are beating the women even if they are working at home as well as outside. But this happened because of uneducated ratio is higher in women so I want to conclude that if the women do study then they know the value of self-respect and they will start before their decisions as well and also get the knowledge of the rights they have overall so government also take initiatives like 'beti bchao beti pdhao' and many others so that women can empower themselves and they can live their life without sacrificing their all dreams for the family. Women's Empowerment refers to uplifting women in every aspect such as economic, political, and social. Women empowerment is not a cause for increasing divorce rate in India. There was a time when women were told that marriage is sacred and their ultimate goal was to serve her husband, in-laws and her children.

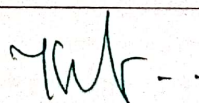

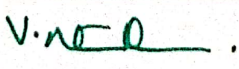

Women were not allowed to dream anything beyond this. They dedicated their entire lives to look after their family. Women had no freedom to complain even if they were subjected to domestic violence or harassment or any other form of violence from in-laws. They respected their husband's wishes even though they didn't like them. Due to lack of education, many women didn't know their rights. Even if women were educated, they didn't have the financial independence to look after their children after divorcing their spouses. As a result, many women had to compromise in their marriage. This has slowly changed over the course of years with women being educated and gaining financial independence. Women can approach the court in case of domestic violence, harassment or any pressure from in-laws regarding dowry for the justice to be served. Divorce rates are high in urban areas. Divorces could happen among the spouses due to 'n' number of reasons

- Infidelity (could be a wife or a husband).
- Not a happy marriage-Domestic violence.-Pressure from in-laws regarding dowry.-Divorce with mutual consent- To make their own choices and decisions.- Have equal rights to participate in social, religious and public activities.- Have equal social status in the society.
- Have equal rights for social and economic justice.- Determine financial and economic choices.
- Get equal opportunity for education.- Get equal employment opportunity without any gender bias.

Brief Report

Nowadays especially young students spend a lot of time on social media during the day, they are using like watching movies and reels, the youth they spend more time on social media they not focusing on their career goals this habit impacts your life, and also day by day decreases the human interaction. Some of the students used skill purpose #one person was spent in 7 hrs around the day, at that time they could focus on the career he can achieve a dream job. Finally, I share one message to youth social media is an addiction don't be addicted. Social media is a platform where youth can interact and connect with other people in the society or around the world. I am fully agreeing with Jayasri's point that every topic has two faces similarly social media has both positive and negative impact on the youth.

One of the positive impact can be youth are interacting with the people around the world which will improve their communication skill, social media like education platforms will help youth to gain knowledge, to solve the many problems and social media also help youth to gain knowledge about what's going on in the world.

On social media one can put their views on several topic which allow them to openly talk about any topic.

On the other hand, social media may lead youth into many troubles like they can be trapped by the criminals who are using fake profile.

Since now a days social media is on trends so youth starts avoiding physical meeting with the friends since they can talk with them on the social media.

Youth is spending huge amount of time on social media which is not good for their mental health.

1. It helps a lot to know the state of the world.
2. It helps us to be a more creative and knowledgeable people.
3. We can learn and study more things from this media and social networking platform.

Another aspect is opposition. So let's discuss that point -.

1. In our daily life, we are all addicted to this social media and networks.
2. It affects our health like our eyesight is not good, our mental state is not good like most of the youth are depressed.
3. And the last is the most important, it takes a lot of time.
