Kakinada celebrated World Nature Conservation day on 28.07.2022

Every year, World Nature Conservation Day is observed on July 28th to raise awareness regarding the protection of nature and its resources. The world is facing a lot of issues related to nature and its conservation. The challenges are based on climate change , urbanisation, Pollution deforestation and damage to the rich flora and fauna. So the prime focus for this day is to preserve the environment and nurture it. And the objective is to draw attention to the flora and fauna species that have a threat of extinction in the near future. This year World Nature Conservation Day will be celebrated under the theme "Cut down on plastic". Painting Competition is conducted to create awareness among the students on Nature conservation.
